Why Rose Hasn't Communicated For Some Time

Hello Everyone,

I would like to inform you of why I haven't got in touch with you for a period of time. I'm not sure if all of you remember that I was instructed to go back to school for of all things; Web Design! Through the grace of god and with the assistance of the angels this did happen. I have to admit it has been a pretty exciting journey. Especially since, I have used most of my time towards the studying of things associated with the metaphysical or unseen realms and was a bit unbalanced with the whole technological side of things. Since the completion and graduation of my course many new things have come my way which I will be informing you about as we move through this newsletter. Please forgive me for pulling out of serving you during this period of time but I had to make a decision to concentrate fully on my education during this period of time because the course load was quite intense and I truly wanted to get as much out of it as I could. I felt that if I pursued both at the same time it could have made one area or the other suffer; or maybe even both. I hope you are now able to understand why I made the decision that I did.

Before I move into the events part of this newsletter I would like to let you know that if any of you have been going through big shifts and changes in your life during these past few years and especially in this year, you are right on track. The energy coming onto the planet has been set up to push you in this direction. Our spirits are, on some level, forcing us to make decisions that are much more in line with our natural gifts, talents and desires. The old way of doing what we feel we "have to do" or "must do" to survive no-longer fit in the new energy. The main reason why it doesn't fit is for the simple fact that if we believe this and try to live this we are NOT being true to ourselves and in fact deceiving ourselves, which does not fit in the new energy. Honest and authentic self expression is more conducive with the way the energy on the planet and our lives are moving and growing into. The best suggestion I can make to any of you is to keep asking your higher self and the angels to keep pointing you in the appropriate direction that would bring you the most peace and joy. Surround yourself with as much like-minded people and information that will support you as you grow with this new energy and keep asking yourself this very important question; “How does this make me FEEL?!” If it makes you happy and brings you joy to do it, you are heading in the RIGHT direction.

I would also like to encourage you to visit my website from time to time. I have created it to promote my business yes, but, I have also created it to be a resource of information to support you so you never feel alone during this time. I am constantly growing and I love to share what I learn with others. My intention is to serve you to the best of my abilities.

All My Love
Rose

I am proud to say that I have created this new site. Please be patient, for there is much for me to do. As I said earlier, this site is for my business and will also be a resource center for you to come to access new updated information about the earth changes and whatever I am instructed to share.

Blessings

The Summer Solstice is on June 21st, 2011. I would like to invite you to take advantage of this energy with me and meet for a guided meditation to assist you in using this energy to its greatest potential.

Our initial focus will be on letting go of any remaining patterns that are holding us back from creating the lives we truly desire and after we release this energy we will focus on the love and acceptance of the self we are NOW! One cannot create a NEW FUTURE until one accepts themselves as they are NOW! We will complete this meditation with the opening to the realization of the gifts we have and/ or the acceptance of even more gifts into our lives.

The suggested donation is $15.00 for this evening event.

I look forward to growing with you!!!

Spaces are limited please * RSVP (please give all contact info) through email; <mailto:rose@theperfectrose.ca> or call (905)526-9694 to reserve a spot!

There is a partial solar eclipse on July 1st and this energy will be useful to support each of us in bringing our dreams into reality! It has been said that the energy a few days before and a few days after is still very powerful so we will be using the energy a few hours before the actual eclipse. This meditation will be focusing on our dreams and the attainment of them. I encourage you to think about what you truly desire before you come to this meditation gathering and I also encourage you to think BIG!

The suggested donation is $15.00 for this evening event.

I look forward to growing with you!!!

The Power of Prayer: When two or more gather Miracles happen...

View Link for Details: <http://www.thepperfectrose.ca/groups.html>

In this gathering, Rose will be sharing a special method of prayer that is helpful in the manifestations of your dreams and wishes. The night will start off with a brief introduction about how prayers are answered and an explanation of the best way to pray for yourself and others. It's based on the premise that in a lot of cases it is easier to pray for the best for someone else because we aren't attached to the outcome. You will then be put into pairs where you will talk about what you would like to see happen in your lives and each of you will learn how to pray for each other!

This is a very powerful tool; you will see results as soon as you experience this method in a group setting. At the end of the class you will each have an opportunity to sit with Rose and let her know what your wishes are if you are interested in having her create a special prayer especially for you for a small fee of $7 that will be created on a MP3 recording (windows media file) and sent to you via email after the evening.

The suggested donation is $12.00 for this evening event.

I look forward to seeing you grow!!!
